The Maasai depend heavily on their cattle for milk, and Maasai women make money by selling beadwork. The Mara Reserve claims to have Kenya's most abundant concentration of wildlife and is regarded by many travelers as a crucial stop on any African safari. The reserve belongs to the Maasai people.

Morning and afternoon game driving tours will lead you to some of Africa's giraffes, its largest lion prides, hyenas, herds of zebra, antelopes, buffalo, wildebeest, and cheetahs. Between the months of July and October, the Mara is famous for the Great Migration, when awe-inspiring numbers of Zebra, Thomson's Gazelle and Wildebeest move into the area. When westerners think of African safari tours, this part of Kenya is the place they imagine - golden grassland plains dotted with acacia and wide-open savannahs roamed by wildebeest, zebras, lions and jackals. Your accommodation on this day offers en suite bathrooms and secluded verandas.

Activity: Morning and afternoon game drives to your heart's content.

Once again you will be able to experience game-drives in the morning and in the afternoon. Both drives will give you great wildlife viewing opportunities. You will see large herds of local grazing animals going by, and also have a good chance of seeing some of the big cats. If you're able to visit between July and October, you may be able to witness the Great Migration, when huge herds of Thomson's gazelles, wildebeests and zebras travel in mass from the Serengeti. It is an unforgettable experience that is not to be missed. No matter when you visit, you will also have a chance to take a "walking safari", or visit a local tribal village if you wish. You will learn about the Maasai way of life and how they have managed to retain their semi-nomadic customs even in today's modern world, when so much of their world is at risk. After all these adventures, you will be more than ready for a mid-day nap, a dip in the pool or laze on the veranda to escape the heat of the day.
